

ELECTRONIC BOOK WITH MULTIMODE I/O

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

An electronic book device runs at least two output mode threads - one graphics, and one audio - such that the device can both graphically display book content, and play the content over a speaker in the device. Annotations can be made audibly or graphically, and user commands can likewise be made audibly or graphically.

C. H. WILSON AND R. J. BROWN